Walter Ashley led in the field of six candidates going in to office as commissioner from Central Borough, and W. F. Crider defeated incumbent and Mayor Harold Robb, becoming commissioner from North Borough in the city elections held Tuesday.

Straw ballot on the city taking over the County Club of the Everglades showed a slight majority favoring the city taking over the project. The vote was 345 against the proposal and 327 favoring it. There was a margin of only eighteen votes.

New commissioners replaced Harold Robb and Frank Doolley on the council at a meeting Tuesday night in the city hall. Commissioners Julius Harris, N. D. Lloyd, and W. C. Collins are serving out their terms of office.

They decided there is a great need for better general understanding of the United Nations organization. Special programs and a discussion were planned in the future schedule.

Shootin' Blanks

By Paulslets

When beef becomes scarce, bull remains plentiful. Those who doubt the above statement failed to attend the Glades Livestock Market sale last Friday where supporting evidence was abundant. Some 176 cattle passed through the portals under the auctioneer's mellow drone of the auctioneer's mellow drone of the auctioneer's mellow drone.

But bull was plentiful. Theories on any subject remotely connected with the cattle world are as numerous as beans on a low market. Some gentlemen cowhands advised to buy animals fast, others said to buy them slow.

As always, individuals were present who were wiser than the wisest. They knew that if one buys the right kind of cattle at the right time and for the right price, he is doing right. The market is a great place for the beginning cow puncher. He can learn more and more about less and less as he knows absolutely everything about nothing.

The long beard has been warning us that some day the weather will take place. (Continued on Page 4)

Those remaining alive should immediately turn from the dazzling light of the burst and not look back, cover all exposed surfaces with anything available.

Little Do We Know Just When Our Community Is Being Evaluated Nor What Factors Weigh Most Heavily!

A nationally known manufacturing firm, after inspecting 35 cities in seven Southern states, narrowed its choice to eight cities as possible cities for a new branch plant. Of the eight, the one in Tennessee rated first on the basis of plant site and operating costs, yet the plant will be located in another city. The Chamber of Commerce secretary of the Tennessee city has reported on why they lost it. The manufacturer's objections, as summarized by the local newspaper, were:

Low taxes—the offer of a low tax assessment discredited the whole picture of the Tennessee city to the manufacturer. Under the city's offer, county taxes would have been only $440 annually, whereas the city ranking second on the company list placed taxes at $48,000 and the fourth city on the list put taxes at $75,000. The company officials indicated that they expected to carry a fair tax load, otherwise "they did not see how the community could furnish proper schools, recreation, sewers, and city services for their employees."

Recreational facilities—the company considered the city wholly lacking in these or adequate park, no municipal golf course. The only recreation offered in the city, as the company saw it, "consisted of a picture show and pool."

Educational facilities—on this point, the Tennessee city ranked lowest of all eight cities included in the company's final choice. The company said that it wanted the best of educational facilities for the children of its employees.

Community pride—apparent lack of civic pride was reflected in the number of homes in the city that needed painting and many business houses that "were old and not of the type which the company specifically pointed to colored slums about which no one seemed concerned, even though they were practically in the business district."

Air transportation—inability to reach the city directly by air, because no airline stops there, was cited as a distinct disadvantage. Company executives wish to fly from their northern headquarters to the branch plants, the Chamber secretary was told.

At this point, the absence of a first-class dining room in the city was especially noted by this manufacturer, although he did find some good coffee shops.

Labor supply—the existing industries in the city gave this manufacturer concern as to adequacy of potential labor supply. It was believed that the supply of female workers would be insufficient and that the male supply only fair, but the Chamber secretary contends that this belief is in error.

Fuel costs—these were excessive in comparison with other locations considered.

You will note that of the eight objections, only two were strictly economic factors and the local people felt these two can be easily corrected. The main objection was that this Tennessee city was not a good place in which to live. In Florida, we are sure our citizens, by reason of local experience and the moral thought, is this: let's capitalize on the attractiveness of our communities as a place to live—it is a major consideration for today's enlightened industry.

C Of C Holds 1st Rams Tuning For Season Meeting

The Golden Rams are slowly rounding into condition for their first game of the season next Friday night, according to Coach Don Leavitt.

Directors discussed publication of the complete city directory, which was scheduled for last year. The office will act as clearing house for organization dates this year. According to Secretary Leavitt, George Young, a master calendar with dates of functions will be kept.

The Chamber of Commerce will be open from 9 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 3:30 p. m. five days a week. Mrs. Young is acting as temporary secretary.

EDD AND COUNTY PLAN TO HOLD JOINT SALE

According to plans drawn up for the joint sale of Everglades Drainage District and county titled lands, at a meeting in West Palm Beach Monday, the property will be sold with the county appraisal and district's liens totaling a base bid. If the property sells for more than the base bid, the overage will be split in proportion to initial claims.

County Commissioner John Brown and County Attorney Harry A. Johnston and Circuit Clerk J. Alex Arnette represented the county while W. Turner Wallis, EDD manager, represented the EDD.

Wallis notified the county has received a draft of a contract from the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service under which the Federal Government is willing to accept the proposed conservation area in the county, effective October 1 from the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District.

Recent appointment to the EDD board is W. C. Canvey, Indianapolis, who succeeded Brown. Daniel, Moore Haven.

Daniel resigned several months ago to accept appointment to the EDD board, according to Wallis.

Daniel replaced Dr. Fred Barleson, Ft. Myers, who resigned because of pressure to accept private medical practice, Wallis stated.

Just less than ten years ago, authorities said corn couldn't be grown profitably in the Glades. The reason was among the agricultural scientists who grew it anyhow.

Arrived from Iowa with corn fields in his backcountry, Dr. Bair coming at the Everglades Experiment Station in 1941 with a string of degrees and a reputation as a corn expert in plant physiology and crop ecology.

Then lush Glades mud lands of the county supported only 1,000 cattle and a few scattered patches of corn. Now the section boasts more than 30,000 head of cattle and 18,000 acres of corn.

Among those who changed

Cattle Market Will Expand Membership And Increase Its Service To Cattlemen

What is meant by a slanting defense?

Can the defensive team run with a fumbled ball?

What is the actual playing time during a football game?

If you don't know the answers to these questions and have other grinders down, attend the Lions free football clinic September 21 at 7:30 p. m. in Memorial Field. All Glades cattlemen are invited. Season tickets will be on sale there for five dollars, according to Coach Doug Leavitt.

First Twelve Sales Point Way To Successful Operation Of Market

In addition to electing seven Directors, the first annual meeting of the Glades Livestock Market Association discussed the physical marketplace facilities, expanding the membership to be more inclusive of the producers of the community, a feed plant, the marketing of grain feed and other problems of the Glades cattle industry.

The location of the existing lease of the grounds and buildings give the Association an option to purchase at a determined figure, and it was pointed out that the percentage lease is now averaging approximately $15,000 per year.

A committee was appointed to advise the membership concerning proposed purchase and financing of the grounds and buildings.

The report of the Secretary, Manager, George Young shows that 38.2% of the selling at the market has been done by members, and a discussion of the meeting voted to request the attorney to secure a change of charter to bring the item down to approximately half of this.

MEMBER FLORIDA PRESS ASSOCIATION

FOR EMPHASIS

Belle Glade is about to begin its active season after emerging from summer dormancy. Part of its population will again delve into the round of activities shared and divided among its civic, social, community and fraternal organizations. Group schedules will often be at cross purposes and impede the group progress. At least this often has been the case in the past. The self imposed blockade results unintentionally from the lack of a general community coordinating body.

At the beginning of the summer, the plan was expressed for this organization planning board. At that time, many of the groups were concluding their meetings and activities for the summer. Now that programs are beginning again and that projects for the year are being outlined, the proposal comes up. This time perhaps more concrete results might be envisioned.

Occasionally an organization plans an event in conflict with another group. Consequently, neither body has the success and participation which might otherwise result.

If a coordinating body were formed, composed of a member from each organization, a general schedule could be mapped out. Such action would insure each group open dates for their programs. Also, suggestions for worthwhile community projects could be pooled for their reference and choice.

The idea is not a new one. It has been presented twice before. The first time, the originator, John T. Pickett, was complimented on it. Nothing further was done. It died. The last time the idea was brought up, it was not even recognized or condemned with faint praise.

This time the sponsors are determined to save their plan from an early grave. They plan to follow words with action. They would like opportunity to speak to local groups and clubs explaining plans in detail before membership. They are willing to start the organization rolling.

Merit of working and pulling together for greater results has become an established trend. If an organization is offered or willing to explore the idea, its leaders should contact John T. Pickett or the Herald.

NEW CLASSROOMS ADDED
 "Learning cannot take place too rapidly in a school where the enrollment exceeds accommodation space," says one author, in that case, time cannot be given to individualized instruction." Since we had an overcrowded condition at our school last year, the Board of Education has made it possible for the addition of four new classrooms, in order to keep the enrollment of each class at an average. This will enable the teachers to better learn and

Accepting the position of mayor, Crider enlisted the cooperation of the citizens during his term. He invited criticism and stated that when the commission is fully organized it will function for the best interests of the city.

The new commission acted on pending city business. Commissioners approved licenses for beer and liquor licenses and heard a resolution from the city council to sponsor Mr. Lemmie Stuckey, all from Palmetto, Fla. and Mrs. Maurice Fletcher, Clewiston; Mrs. Terie Luper, Belle Glade; Mrs. Salie Sharp, St. Cloud.

Mr. and Mrs. Connor will leave this week and to make their home in Gainesville where both will continue their studies at the University of Florida.

Withdrawing commissioner Dooley recommended the installation of a city manager as some future time in his department speech. "A manager will be the best thing for the city, although the idea is new and unpopular in the minds of the citizenry," he said.

The meeting was recessed until Monday night at 8 when the new commission will act on pending business.

They predicted that the world globe might shift its position and that gravity, the sun and just about everything will start cutting up. Perhaps the first signs of the world's physical revolution are appearing in Belle Glade.

The point of gravity must be shifting here. Several members of the populace can no longer strike a balance on their two feet.

Local casualties of the revolution have bones which are joined where they used to be parted.

Instead of giving a man (Herman Close) a horse he could ride, some one supplied him with a devilish snail. He and the horse couldn't stick together. The result—a broken leg.

Others feeling the shock of shifting world conditions include Mrs. Luther Jones, Leola Jones and Cliff Livingston. To those who about the "physical revolution," I point out these tragic results.

The present "vogue" in these parts is to wear a cast or brace on some limb, or if nothing better a tourniquet around the neck will do.

CONES HOLD OPEN-HOUSE
Mr. and Mrs. Carl T. Work held open house Saturday evening for their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Conner, who were married July 28, in Kingsland, Georgia.

Greyhound Official Recommends Fall Season For Pleasure Trips

People who take vacation and pleasure trips in autumn are choosing an ideal time of the year for travel, according to T. B. O'Steen, Traffic Manager of Florida Greyhound Lines, who today announced Greyhound's nationwide effort to call attention to the desirability of Fall as the time for more pleasant highway travel. O'Steen emphasized the many varied places to go and exciting things to do in the Fall, such as seeing a big football game, taking a group trip to special events, visiting the folks back home, going on a hunting or fishing trip, or taking an expense-free tour to one of the country's wonder spots.

"People are just beginning to realize the many distinct advantages of Fall travel," O'Steen pointed out. They are becoming aware of the increased pleasure of such things as cooler weather for traveling, a much wider choice of hotel and resort accommodations, the more colorful scenic beauty of the countryside during the Auumn months." He then went on to say that this Fall Greyhound has made special plans to provide a wide variety of services to take care of the expected increase in Fall travel. He stated that Greyhound is extending many of its group periods, such as America Tours through the Autumn months, and that special buses are being made available for group trips to big game conventions, club excursions and other group events.

Throughout the Fall season, many types of exciting trips will be arranged and a number of special features offered at regular fares. Greyhound's entire nationwide facilities are being geared to provide the finest possible service for Autumn travelers.

Vegetable Associations Request Railroad Cars

Fruit and vegetable trade associations of this country are joining in a request to the nation's railroads that they provide a minimum of 50,000 new refrigerator cars, according to Lamont, manager of the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association, in Orlando.

"It has been estimated that the coming season's requirements may reveal a shortage in refrigerator cars as great as one-third of the number required. The 50,000 new cars requested would be of inestimable value to the nation by insuring efficient distribution of essential fresh fruits and vegetables."

"There has been a proposal that at least a majority of the new cars should be of the Giant Canadian type, while others recommend the new cars be of the standard all-purpose refrigerator car, with fans."

"Also in prospect are further restrictions on the use of refrigerator cars and demurrage penalties in addition to those in ICC service order number 856."

"FVFA has long been active in working for more adequate transportation facilities. Considerable benefit has accrued to the Florida industry through expediting the return of empty and leasing available cars during shortages, in cooperation with the railroads and by other similar services in this field."

"The subject of transportation will occupy a prominent part in discussions at the seventh annual convention of the association to be held in Miami Beach on October 4, 5 and 6. Representatives of the railroads and other transportation executives will be present to hear the case for better transportation. It is important to members of the industry that they be well represented, since so much depends on proper representation, said Graw."

Protect Our Children
Says Chief Kirkman

"Protect our child-life!" Patrol Chief H. N. Kirkman urged Florida's drivers today as the State Patrol's September program of traffic safety education gained momentum.

"In 1948," Kirkman said, "Our records show that 74 children under 15 years of age were killed and nearly 800 were injured in motor vehicle accidents in Florida. Even considering that youngsters habitually violate safety rules in their walking, the bulk of the blame for such accidents rests with the drivers."

While most drivers are horrified at the idea of hurting a child, the Florida Highway Patrol nevertheless ranked thoughtlessness on the driver's part as the chief cause of the high annual toll of young traffic accident victims.

The Patrol made an urgent appeal to Florida's drivers to heed the following rules:

1. Regard every child in or near the street with the same caution you would a flashing railroad-crossing sign.
2. Expect the unexpected at all times when driving near schools, in residential areas, or in the neighborhood of playgrounds or vacant lots.

3. Give bicycles a wide berth. While a rider may appear to have his bicycle under perfect control, a quick patch on the street, a chuck-hole, or any of many factors can cause a child to fall or lose control and swerve into the path of a car.

4. Particularly in residential areas, the rider should be doubly on the alert for small children playing in driveways or sliding or coasting on inclines that might lead them to the street without warning.

WEST EXPLAINS HOW TO COMBAT MOLDS IN HOME DURING RAINY PERIODS

Ventilation, heat, and cleanliness are the homemaker's best weapons against molds that attack cloth and leather goods during periods of high humidity, according to Myer Edman West, of the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station.

"Humid conditions such as prevail when tropical storms occur," Mr. West said, "are ideal for development of these destructive molds, and prompt measures are necessary to prevent their growth."

The Experiment Station workers recommended that homemakers have all soiled clothes and other goods cleaned as soon as possible, keep windows open in clear weather to allow maximum flow of air currents, and keep cloth goods dry as possible. Burning an electric light globe in clothes, taking care to prevent it from coming in contact with cloth, paper, will help reduce humidity and prevent mold growth.

Turning on the heater or building a fire in the grate or stove is advisable to dry out the house and prevent mildew on walls and furniture, Mr. West pointed out. "This practice has been found very effective when done several times during the rainy season and the tropical storm period," he explained.

Shoes and other leather goods may be protected from molds by wiping them clean with a dry rag, keeping them dry as possible, and keeping them in a dry place. The shoes should be polished with the proper materials for this purpose. He advised against drying leather goods near stoves or other heating equipment, however.

To protect foods from molds, Mr. West said, "It is recommended keeping them under good refrigeration or, in the case of bread and other perishables, in clean dry containers."

INCREASE IN FARM CASH RECEIPTS IS HIGHER IN FLORIDA

As the half-way mark of 1950 rolled around, Florida topped all other states in the increase of farmers' cash receipts as compared with the first half of 1949, according to the latest report from USDA's Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

In fact, Florida and Texas are the only two states with an increase in farm receipts during this period, as compared with the first six months of 1949. All other states reported a decline in farmers' income through June of this year.

From January through June of 1950, the cash receipts to Florida farmers totaled $253,568,000, or a jump of 11.1 per cent over the same period last year. The farmers in Texas received $701,245,000, or an increase of 10.5 per cent more than their earnings of a year ago.

Florida's increased farm income can be largely attributed to the record citrus prices during the 1949-50 season, reports F. W. Farvia, State Agricultural Extension Service economist, "while the increase in Texas probably is due to a bigger per-acre yield of cotton."

Churches of Christ, Scientist
"MATTER" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world on Sunday, September 17.

The Golden Text is: "Every man which my heavenly Father hath not planned, shall be rooted up" (Mark 13:29).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away: But the word of the Lord endureth for ever. And this is the word which by the preached unto you" (1 Pet. 1:24, 25).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The conditions of mortal thought must finally give place to the conditions of eternal truth. We must be held in the camera of divine Mind, when the material is in spiritual and eternal. Mortals must look beyond fading, flesh forms. If they would gain the true sense of things, where shall the gaze rest but in unchangeable Mind?" (1964: 3-101).

The Rafflesia arnoldii flower is said to have the largest blossom of all known flowers. The plant blossom is often three feet in diameter and weighs from 10 to 20 pounds. The plant consists of the flower and has neither stem nor leaves. It is a parasite.

Annual Conference Was Big Success

"The annual conference of Florida State Market Managers held September 6, 7, 8, at the Seminole Hotel, Jacksonville, was one of the best sessions held during the sixteen year life of the organization. The fact that managers braved the 'baby' hurricane to attend this meeting shows the deep interest they have in serving Florida's varied producers of farm products," according to William L. Wilson, Director of the State Farm Market System.

The conference this year was strictly a "family" affair with discussions being held to matters pertaining to market advertising and sales. G. B. Hogan, Assistant Director, presiding with Director Wilson at all sessions directed the round table discussions which included important subjects pertaining to improving marketing services such as advertising, grading, inspection, Methods of Selling, Rules and Regulations, Packing Procedure, Corn Deal Development, Super Problems, Public Relations and others.

W. B. Gilliland, Market Controller, led the discussion on advertising and benefits accruing to growers and buyers therefrom.

G. C. Tharpe, Auditor of the Department of Agriculture, Tallahassee, was the honor guest at the dinner held Friday evening at which Mr. V. Moskinson, Manager of the Palmetto Market acted as Toast Master.

In addition to Manager Moskinson, other managers attending the meeting were Lamont Williams and D. Dr. Coleman of the Bonifay Market; J. W. Lamb of the Dade City Market; C. S. Phillips, Manager, and Mrs. Phillips of the Florida City Market; M. E. Williams, Manager and Phil McMullen, Assistant Manager of the Fort Pierce Market; Harry O'Steen of Fort Myers Market; Miss Vira J. Cooke of the Holly Hill Market; T. S. Kirk of the Palmetto Market; Ira E. Baird of the Palmetto Market; R. B. Alvarez of the Plant City Market; J. L. Warren of the Pompano Market; Sandy Anderson of the Sanford Market; Miss Dorothy Alvarez of the Starke Market; Frank E. Conner, Manager and R. L. Fisher of the Wausatcha Market. Construction Supervisors L. A. Sampley of Plant City and E. S. Rydhym of Melbourne.

CINEMA MATTER
BY Malcolm Miller
When Jon Hall has completed

ed his starring role in "When the Redskins Rode," soon to be released, he will return to Florida where he and his wife, Francis Langford, have established permanent residence. The Halls have built a swank resort near their citrus ranch at Jensen Beach, known as Langford-Hall Terrace. This is but part of their many enterprises away from pictures, personal appearances and recording activities. Jon and Francis have 300 acres of oranges and grapefruit which are located on a yacht harbor and in addition to fishing and boating gives guests opportunity for hunting and other land sports. In California the Halls own an aviation company at Santa Monica. It is said that Arthur Lake, who plays the part of the famous cartoon character "Dagwood," is so impressed with those triple deck sandwiches that he makes them at home for himself. His wife says if she doesn't watch him he does the same trick when they have afternoon guests. It is said that June Allyson is going to keep up with the times if it kills her. Convinced that the modern mode of travel is via air, Miss Allyson has made nine trips cross country via air and has been air sick exactly one time. Clark Gable is an aviation enthusiast and is rated as one of the best pilots in the film colony, owning his own ships. Clark with lovely Loretta Young came to the Hollywood Theatre Sunday-Monday in "Key to the City," one of the funniest shows to date. Frank Morgan, James Gleason and Lewis Stone have great supporting parts. See you at the movies... Mal

Yes sir, that's what you'll say at your potato harvest if you've protected your crop from the damage caused by soil borne insects. When chlordane is applied properly, it gives excellent control of wireworm and other soil borne insects that annually ruin many potato crops. So make sure that your insecticide contains chlordane—the really effective insect toxicant.

For further information see your local dealer or consult your county agent for proper recommendation.

Chlordane controls household insects, too!

School News

By Gene Mathewson

Once again on Sept. 5, the bells of "Dear Ole Belle Glade High" began to ring and as usual there was the same old clicking of heels, buzzing of voices and a friendly atmosphere throughout the building. To the majority of us it seemed like the same old place, but it was so good to see some new faces as well as the old ones. We want to welcome all the new students to our school. We hope they can find as much fun here as we have.

The first day of school was a short one compared to most of them. We had an assembly first of all so Mr. Hobson could explain the schedule. Then registration followed and we were on our way home again.

The rest of last week was spent introducing us to our new subjects, teachers and classmates. Since our books weren't issued until Friday, we had a chance to catch up on all the latest happenings and gossip from our classmates. Perhaps a few students dreaded to come back to school, but to most of the others it must seem pretty good. At least there are lots and lots of happy faces, smiles and "hello's" all ways ringing.

LOCKERS

The lockers were issued Monday of this week. Everyone was glad about that. After carrying those books around all day Friday and most of Monday it really was nice to tuck them away in a locker. A new formula was filed this year regarding the lockers. All of the students have certain periods to get books from their lockers and in which to return them. This way the halls aren't nearly so crowded and we can get to our classes more quickly.

NEW TEACHERS

It's always nice to welcome new people into our crowd, so we want to give a big welcome to the new high school teachers. They help make school an interesting place and as we all know they keep us plenty busy. But their job is to educate us so maybe they're okay! We have a new music teacher, Miss Najarian, from Port Orange, Fla. Also a new Science teacher, Mr. Yates from Kissimmee, Fla. Mr. Hall our assistant coach comes from South Carolina. Of course there are still our teachers from last year whom we all know and are very proud of.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE

The football boys are back in the same old swing again, practicing daily for the team. Quite a few new boys are being added to the team and they should be in good shape when the "B" team meets the Vero Beach "Indians" Sept. 29 at Vero Beach. All of us are anxiously awaiting that game and will all be rooting for our "Golden Bats".

SENIOR CLASS MEETING

The young and gay, mighty proud seniors met with their sponsors, Miss Diger, Miss Martin and Coach Levitt on Tuesday to begin nominating class officers and to announce the members of the annual staff and nominating committee. The annual staff will begin work shortly with a group of thirteen strong. They are Patsy Chamblie, Editor; Charles Newman, Asst. editor; Freddie Stevens, Photographic editor; Ross Winne, Asst. Photographic editor; Florence Rose, Business manager; Clara Stein, and Johnny Robinson, Asst. business manager; Betty Layfield, Feature editor; Margene Mathewson, Asst. feature editor; Gloria Crosby, Copy editor; Lucretia Campbell, Asst. copy editor; Patsy Rogers, Asst. editor; Kenneth Lutz, Asst.

The nominating committee met the last part of the period to decide on the class officers. Those on that committee were: Gloria Crosby, Ross Winne, Freddie Stevens, Patsy Chamblie, and Margene Mathewson. There will probably be another meeting next week to select officers since our time was a little short.

JUNIOR CLASS MEETING

The Junior Class also met on Tuesday with their sponsors, Miss Ledbetter, Mrs. Littlefield and Mrs. Dixon. They met to discuss candidates for class officers and home room meetings. Time did not permit them to select any officers so they will meet again sometime in the near future to choose their officers.

WEEKLY SCHEDULE

This year our weekly schedule has been changed a little. Mondays we have pep club. Tuesdays class meetings, Wednesdays, home room meetings and Thursdays Assembly. On Friday we get out at 3:05 P. M. Also Glee Club is being offered on Tuesdays and Thursdays for Senior High students.

P. T. A.

The P. T. A. of Belle Glade gave its annual reception for the teachers on Monday night, Sept. 11. Mrs. L. P. Parsons president presided and Mrs. Bamford acted as secretary. Theme selected for this year was "Foundation For Our Child's Future".

Mrs. E. D. Lively, program chairman, took charge after a short business meeting. Mr. F. O. Hobson, principal, introduced all of the teachers. A contest was then held to see what three people could name all the teachers. The winners of this contest were Mrs. Vernie Boots, Mrs. Jack Royals and Mrs. Ralph Freeman. They received as a prize the privilege of singing a trio to the teachers.

Following this all the teachers played musical chairs with Miss Sarah Diger winning the prize.

Refreshments of cookies and punch were served to all present.

The second Monday night in October will be the next P. T. A. meeting.

Cole's Set Up Freedom Crusade Organization

Following his appointment as State Chairman and Director of the "Crusade for Freedom," in Florida by General Lucius D. Clay, last week, Harold Cole began setting up a state organization and named the following Advisory Committee for the state at large:

Honorable Fuller Warren, Governor, Tallahassee; S. Kendrick Guernsey, Pres., Gulf Life Ins. Co., Jacksonville; Donald K. Carroll, Department Commander, The American Legion Jacksonville; Paul H. Ficht, Chamber of Commerce, Clearwater; E. Dixie Beggs, Pensacola; Walter L. Hays, Pres., American Fire and Casualty Co., Orlando; E. M. Martin, Pres., Florida Chain Store Council, Tampa; Lloyd F. Gahr, Pres., Florida State Retailers Assn., Orlando; Allenberg, Pres., Florida State Hotel Assn., Miami Beach; A. F. Cooke, Pres., Florida Press, Plant City; J. C. Rogers, Pres., Florida Bankers Assn., Leesburg; Selden F. Wald, Atty., Gainesville; Garland Fowell, Pres., Florida Association of Broadcasters, Gainesville; David B. Lindsay, Jr., Pres., Associated Dailies of Florida, Sarasota; Mrs. Harburn Horne, Pres., Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, Madison; A. Y. Millam, Pres., Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce; Hon. Thomas D. Bailey, State Supt. of Public Instruction, Tallahassee; Brailley Robb, Pres., Florida Junior Chamber of Commerce, Jacksonville; Frank G. Roche, Pres., Florida Federation of Labor, Miami; and Frank W. Norris, Ex. Vice Pres., Barnett National Bank, Jacksonville. Mr. Cole said that Mr. Norris would serve as State Treasurer for the Crusade.

Ten District Chairmen will be named later, Cole said. The "Crusade for Freedom" is a national effort to help lift the iron curtain and tell the people of the world the truth. General Clay terms it "A Crusade that will be a 'Spiritual Airline' to put Freedom and the Free World on the offensive." The campaign is sponsored by the National Committee for a Free Europe and is endorsed by President Truman.

CATTLEMAN ADVISED TO PLAN FOR FEED FOR WINTER MONTHS

"To keep breeding herds in healthy condition during the coming winter, cattlemen were advised by the Florida Agricultural Extension Service to take steps now to provide adequate feed for them.

"Even with our long grazing season, there's a period of 30 to 40 days in winter when cattle need additional feed to keep them in good shape," Dr. Oliver F. Goen, Extension animal husbandman, pointed out. Dr. Goen emphasized that cows in good condition in the fall can be carried through the winter much more cheaply than thin, weak ones, and that starving cows produce small amounts of milk and make weak calves. He also explained that it is easier to maintain cows in good weight in winter than to make them gain back weight lost because of inadequate feed.

Winter feed may include reserved pasture, temporary grazing crops, sugar cane, silage, or legume hay. A limited amount of protein-rich concentrate feed, such as cottonseed meal, fed to cattle on grass or citrus or cane molasses will give good results.

Dr. Goen also made these recommendations: Temporary pastures of oats and rye provide grazing for breeding animals and young stock. Supplement such pastures with hay and other roughages. Begin planting oats and rye in late September, applying about 300 pounds of 4-10-7 or 4-7-5 fertilizer per acre for good growth.

Reserving a portion of pasture—keeping stock off it for two or three weeks—will provide grazing that will enable cows to enter the winter in good condition.

Peanut hay, Alfalfa clover hay, and other home-produced hays are good winter feed. Over-stocking a pasture results in cattle going into the winter in thin, unhealthy condition. This practice should be avoided.

Dr. Goen also advised cattlemen to plan now for supplies of protein concentrates and minerals they will need during the winter.

USING CITRUS

Florida's delicious citrus can be used in countless ways to tempt the appetites of the family, and home-makers are daily discovering new uses to which it may be put in the menu. It is used in combination salads, sandwiches and a large number of other desserts, in pastries and cakes, and in many many other ways. Try tangy orange juice as the liquid for your pie crust and see what response you get from those who eat it. And here's a recipe that is bound to bring the folks back for "seconds" and "thirds." It is Orange Biscuits.

First, make the orange paste. You'll need 6 tablespoons of butter, 2 cups of flour, one-third cup orange juice, grated rind of medium orange, and 1 cup of sugar. Cook together all ingredients except the oil until thick. Then add sugar and remove from fire. Let paste cool before using.

With the paste ready, make a biscuit dough by your favorite recipe. Roll half and inch thick and cut in strips six inches wide. Spread orange paste on strips, roll like a jelly roll, and with a sharp knife, cut in one inch slices. Place on baking sheet and bake in a hot oven.

DR. PIPES

able, take cover if it is a step away, or if in the open, drop to the ground and curl up.

The explosion takes place in a fraction of a second and exerts its damage in three principle ways:

1. By heat in the neighborhood of one million degrees, which lasts for about three seconds.

2. Direct shock waves, which last about 10 seconds.

The Gamma waves are similar to X-rays and cause the so-called radiation sickness. The prominent feature of this disease is temporary or permanent damage to the bone marrow. The bone marrow, among other things, produces the white and red blood cells in the blood stream. As a result of the damage to the bone marrow the number of white and red cells decrease rapidly in the blood stream. The main function of the white cells is to protect the body from infection. We live in an "atomphere" loaded with germs. The air we breathe, the food we eat, and the utensils from which we eat are covered with bacteria.

The reason under normal conditions that we aren't sick as a result of it is largely due to the white blood cells in the blood stream. When the production of white cells is slowed or stopped by Gamma radiation even a small cut or scratch will become a large ulcer with uncontrolled infection and death, because the body has absolutely no defense. Therefore, you can see why this bomb is so far reaching in its deadly effects, since it not only injures more people, but in addition blocks the healing process in those individuals who ordinarily would have only minor injuries.

Our main treatment for this at the present is multiple blood-transfusions with the hope that the damage to the bone marrow may be temporary and, in a few days, may take over its function again. In those in whom the bone marrow is permanently damaged, death necessarily sooner or later follows.

Therefore, it would seem that the biggest job in a medical casualty station will be:

1. The giving of blood transfusions. 2. Treating burns. 3. Analyzing blood in patients to determine the number of white cells in the blood, since a fall in the number of white cells would mean the onset of radiation sickness and that transfusions must be started at once.

In an air blast there will be very little residual radiation and it will be possible to use buildings still standing very soon after an explosion. An underwater blast is less destructive immediately, but is followed by a cloud of spray and fog which will cover the area for a variable period of time. This will make all objects with which it comes in contact, radioactive for some time. All persons exposed to this fog should discard their clothes and bury them in the ground. They should wash themselves well with soap and water. Walls of buildings can be improved by scrubbing with soap and water, but sand blasting seems to be the only completely safe method.

As I said before, the first blast will be unexpected. Suppose it should happen on a Sunday afternoon. Some will be relaxing at home, some in church, some at the ball game, others on picnics, etc. Then the bomb drops . . . In a matter of minutes utter confusion will reign. Everyone will be trying to get away as rapidly as possible. Trucks and cars will jam the streets, roads and bridges. For this reason cities and towns will have to plan for traffic regulation of thousands of refugees to prevent unnecessary deaths from accidents.

Now what will happen in the outlying small towns in a few days? Food shortages will cause rioting between the haves and have nots. Lack of medicines, sanitation, and safe water supplies may cause various epidemics such as typhoid, dysentery, etc. There may be a wave of crime and collapse of local Gov't. Broken water mains may permit small fires to go unchecked until entire towns are in flames. All these incidents show why civil defense programs are so important.

The problems and necessary precautions, should an A-bomb blast occur, should be discussed freely among members of families and among citizens of each and every community.
